

Photo credit: J. Brew, Wikimedia Commons, CC-BY-SA, 2.0

IELab Conference 2017

in conjunction with

ALCAS Symposium 2017

26-28 November 2017, The University of Queensland, Moreton Bay Research Station, 37 Fraser St, Dunwich (off Brisbane)

Please register here:

<https://app.secure.griffith.edu.au/griffithpay/IELab-ALCAS-Conference.html>

You are cordially invited to participate in the 2017 joint IELab-ALCAS conference on Stradbroke Island! Developers and users of the Industrial Ecology Lab will meet for two days to:

- widen community awareness and usage of the IELab,
- showcase the diverse applications of the IELab
- connect in particular to the LCA community for applications
- create an environment for building and initiating collaborations
- support and train the next generation of IELab users and developers
- discuss new collaboration and project ideas

Join us for the 2-day conference on beautiful Stradbroke Island. There will be plenty of opportunity to get to know the project, meet researchers and initiate new collaborations amongst a growing community.

Conference costs include shared accommodation, conference dinner at the Straddie Pub and all other meals.

Note: Accommodation limited to 130, so please register early.

For further details and program please visit

<https://ielab.info/discover/events/ielab-conference-2017>

Early bird registration deadline

15 October 2017

(20% surcharge after)

Sunday 26 Nov – $55

Monday 27 Nov – $175

Tuesday 28 Nov – $120

Call for Contributions

Your active contribution to the IELab conference is very much welcome!
We are calling for and encouraging the following types of contributions:

- Training: you have expert knowledge in developing and/or using the IELab and want to pass it on to others
- Presentation: you have done work with/on the IELab and want others to hear about it
- Poster: you have done work with/on the IELab and simply want to let others know about it
- Discussion: you have an idea and want to start a discussion about it

Please submit an Abstract of 100 words maximum to support@ielab.info, using the following format:

- Abstract title
- Type of contribution (Training, Presentation, Poster or Discussion)
- First and SURNAME (please write surname in capital letters), Affiliation
- Abstract text (100 words maximum)

When you send your email to support@ielab.info, please also include the intended length of your contribution. A training session, for example, may take any time between 30 mins and half a day. We will try and accommodate your preferences in the program.

Thank you.

Scientific Program Committee

Steven Kenway

Manfred Lenzen

Tommy Wiedmann (Chair)

Local Organising Committee

Peter Daniels

Steven Kenway (Chair)

Ka Leung Lam